PURE VOLATILE
EUCALYPTUS GLOBULUS
EXTRACT.

UNDER the distinguished patronage of His Majesty the King of Italy, at Rome, according to communication received from the Consul-General for Italy, at Melbourne, upon instructions from the Minister for Foreign Affairs, dated 14th March, 1878.

TESTIMONIALS.

Certificate.

Sandhurst, 1st of March, 1878.
I have been investigating Messrs Sander and Sons' Eucalyptus Extract since its discovery, and I have to admit that there is no other medicine I know of, of such universal effect on the human system. I observed in the first instance that it checks completely all inflammations of whatever kind—inflammation of the chest, lungs, all throat affections, such as bronchitis, and diphtheria. It alleviates and cures all pains of rheumatic nature, neuralgia, &c. I have used it with unparalleled success in swellings, bruises, sprains, wounds of all kinds, and of most serious nature, as well as in all disorders of the bowels, diarrhoea, &c. I am convinced that the medicinal value of this preparation will meet with the greatest estimation, and I gladly acknowledge its merits for the benefit of the public.—JOHN CRICKSHANK, M.D., L.R.C.S.E., Health Officer.

2nd March, 1878.
I certify to the seal of the Council of the City of Sandhurst being affixed to this document, D. Macdonnell, Town Clerk.

Statutory Declaration.
I, Franz Raabe, of Ironbark, Sandhurst, in the Colony of Victoria, Australia, do solemnly and sincerely declare, that guided by the desire that all who may be afflicted as I was may be enabled to take advantage of my publication, I make the following declaration: On the 25th June, 1877, my son Alfred, six years of age, was accidentally hurt, with an axe on the knee. At once called all pains to procure medical assistance by calling at first on Dr. Atkinson, who was subsequently assisted by Dr. Penfold and Macgillivray. However, in spite of all the combined efforts of the said gentlemen, the malady took such a bad turn that the patient was lying in unintermittent agony, and on the 17th August, 1877, the operation was given by Dr. Macgillivray, that an amputation of the injured limb had become imperative, in order to save life. At this juncture I called on Messrs Sander and Sons, procuring some of their Extract of the Eucalyptus Globulus, and by the application of the same I had the satisfaction of seeing my son within a fortnight out of all danger, and to-day he is recovered. I may just add that it was when the crisis had been reached, that the extract referred to was first applied. I abstain from expressing my feelings towards Messrs Sander and Sons in this declaration, but anyone may imagine them better than I can describe them in words. And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing the same to be true, and by virtue of the provisions of an Act of the Parliament of Victoria, rendering persons making a false declaration punishable for wilful and corrupt perjury.—FRANZ RAABE, Declared at Sandhurst, in the Colony of Victoria, this seventeenth day of October, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-seven, before me, Morris Cohn, J.P.

From the Donald Times.
February 2, 1878.
Mr H. Brown, a splitter and laborer, who resides at Donald, informs me, and has shown me the bottle of the extract, that he has suffered from a sprained ankle for seven months. He procured the best medical advice in the district, and paid as high as 17s for one bottle of lotion. It did him no good, and at last he tried Sander's Eucalyptus Essence. Three bottles cured his leg, and he is now as strong as ever.

Government Botanist's Opinion.
Baron Von Mueller, the Government botanist, declares our extract to be a most excellent one.
Cases of Paralysis.
In November, 1877, the eldest boy of Mr G. Morgan, Donald, awoke in the night crying with cramps. After some time the extract was thought of, and tried. The little fellow was cured and asleep in ten minutes.
A day or two after this Mr Morgan met Mr French, of Corack station, who complained of having a bad cramp and pain in the head. He persuaded the sufferer to try the Eucalyptus Extract, and having put two drops in his ear, and rubbed some round the ear, the pain instantly disappeared.

Cases of Severe Bruises.
In November, 1877, Mrs Weppner who resides in Colbinabbia (Runnymede), informed the manufacturer that the extract applied twice restored health to her daughter, eleven years of age, who had been rushed and trampled upon by a cow. The child was almost dead, and lay all over the body, bleeding profusely at the head, and the temples had become quite black.
Mr D. Obermann, residing near the gas works, who was suffering from wounds which he could not get rid of during six months, and who was cured by the use of the extract, within four weeks, introduced to Sander and Sons, in November, a man having his arm bruised severely at a crushing machine in Long Gully. That man applied the extract, and the accident did not even necessitate as much as an interruption in his attendance at work.

Mr Franz Wehrle, Sailor's Gully, has likewise cured one of his hands, which was severely bruised—or rather, we should say, crushed—through a fall of stone upon it.
Mr H. Fickel, of Ironbark, has also successfully applied the extract to a finger injured in the same way.
To the Editor of the Newcastle Morning Herald and Mines' Advocate.
12th February, 1878.
Having received an ugly wound some short time ago in the forearm from a dog bite, and which caused me great pain, the arm swelling up to the shoulder, and partially deterring me from following my daily avocation—that the flesh had been poisoned I had not the slightest doubt—I tried fomentation and other remedies, but still the limb got worse. Seeing the Eucalyptus Essence advertised in the columns of the Herald and Advocate, I purchased a bottle in order to try its efficacy upon the wound. Upon the first application the swelling almost entirely disappeared, the pain was considerably relieved, and the third day after applying the oil, I felt no inconvenience whatever, and I am now firmly convinced that in cases of wounds, swellings, strains, or bruises, the Eucalyptus is a safe remedy, and would advise all who might be suffering from any of the above to give the "Essence" a trial.

I am, sir, yours &c., J. Peddon.
Plattburg, February 6th, 1878.
From the Bendigo Evening News.
Mr Adolphus Jungheun, of Ironbark, called at our office on Monday, the 24th December, 1877, and narrated the following:—My little girl, ten years of age, had been complaining some of her leg being very sore above the knee, and I sent her to see Dr. Atkinson, who immediately pronounced the case a bad one, and said he could give the child no cure, but she must lay still for three months, after which period a piece of bone would work its way out. Not satisfied with that opinion, I went the next day to Dr James Boyd, who attended my girl for the next four weeks. This doctor said the bone was diseased, and a piece would have to come out before the leg would get well. But during the four weeks treatment of Dr Boyd, the leg was growing worse and the child sinking. I had heard in the meantime of the Eucalyptus Extract working some wonderful cures, and at the end of the period mentioned I obtained a bottle of the extract, and first used it on Monday, the 10th December. The doctor's visits then ceased, the child being in a very low condition, and I gave my little girl three drops each night and morning, and also applied it to the part affected, for two weeks, at the end of which time I was exceedingly pleased to find she had so much improved as to be able to run about. I regard the cure effected by the extract as simply marvellous, and I have been recommending the latter to my friends who are suffering.

From the Bendigo Evening News.
Howard Place, March 11th, 1878.
Messrs Sander and Sons—I have much pleasure in testifying to the proved excellence of your Eucalyptus Extract. For seven weeks I suffered intense pain from a sprained ankle (which had swollen much), and could get no relief, although I was under medical treatment, till at last I purchased a bottle of your extract, and after using three bottles full, my ankle was completely cured. I would now recommend all persons suffering similarly to try your Eucalyptus Extract, as I can assure them it is a sure cure.—Edward Gibson.

To the Editor of the Newcastle Morning Herald and Mines' Advocate.
March 18th, 1878.
Sir,—Having suffered from a bad wound in the leg for a long time, I tried several remedies, none of which had the desired effect; and, as a forlorn hope, tried a bottle of the "Eucalyptus," and I am happy to have the opportunity of bearing record to its efficacy; although having used but one small bottle, the wound is now healed. You are at liberty to give publicity to the above, as I believe the knowledge of this fine medicine cannot be too well known.—William Harris, Wallaseid.

From the Cooktown Courier.
February 23rd, 1878.
We have received the following testimony in favor of the new curative agent from our correspondent at Port Douglas:—The Eucalyptus preparation is being experimented with here, and the few bottles that have been disposed of, prove all that has been written with regard to the efficacy of the preparation. A person whilst performing his daily duties in one of our stores, happened to tread on a rusty nail, which so inconvenienced him for some days, that he could neither put his foot to the ground nor wear a boot—the part being so painful. He was persuaded to try this new preparation, and upon applying the liquid twice, immense relief was soon experienced, and the person referred to is now able to walk about as if nothing had happened to him. This came within my own observation, therefore I can vouch for the truth of this assertion.

Case of Swelling.
In November, 1877, the wife of Mr Fickel Ironbark suffered in the bend of the knee from a swelling, which had formed a lump of considerable size, disabling her from attending to any work. She removed the swelling completely by a continued application of the extract.

ITS CLAIM AS A CURATIVE.
It has now become the fashion with the inventors or discoverers of remedial agents to claim something little short of infallibility and universality of cure for their respective agents. Messrs Sander and Sons do nothing of the sort. They have confidence that their oil possesses many virtues; but the full extent of these they do not know yet. They are now collecting data, and they are most careful and searching in performing this. It is quite sure then, that their eucalyptus oil can fairly assert itself to be a grand panacea for many of the ills that flesh is heir to.

In Scarlet, Typhoid, or any case of Fever, nothing will protect better against contagion than a few drops of the oil poured in the palm of the hand, and rubbed in, in order to liberate the vapors, or sprinkled over the clothes. The perfume will be noticed for a great length of time.

For Children Attending Schools, the same mode may be adopted.

In Cases of Sickness, a few drops put into a saucer, and put into the room will, being an etheric oil, evaporate, and fill the room with the purifying vapor.

Are you obliged to travel? A few drops occasionally rubbed on the body, will protect against any contagion you may be exposed to, in coming in direct contact with sick persons, or in sleeping in the same room with, or in beds occupied previously by sick persons.

All Hotelkeepers will do well to sprinkle from time to time in drawers, where linen is usually kept, a few drops of the pure essential oil. It produces no spots whatever, as every particle of it evaporates, and nothing remains.

In short, where a disinfectant is needed, the pure essential eucalyptus oil ought to be the one you have recourse to, and no family ought to be without it.

For all Wounds, Cuts, Burns, Scaldings, Ulcers, and Cancerous Wounds, a piece of linen wrapped round the suffering part, and moistened with a few drops of the eucalyptus essence, will stop all pain, and effect a speedy cure. In cases where a piece of linen cannot be applied, the moistening of the suffering part with the pure oil will do as well.

In Case of Colds moisten the nostrils with a few drops and inhale the vapour, and you will feel the immediate relief, and entire ridance of the head.

In all cases where the Lungs may be Affected, the above-mentioned process, continually repeated, will be the best that can be advised.

In cases of Rheumatism, a mixture of one part of the pure essential eucalyptus oil with three parts of spirits of wine, well rubbed in the suffering part, has acted better than any other remedy.

In severe cases of Toothache of rheumatic origin, the pure essence may be applied on the external part of the face.

In cases of Inflammation of the Eyes, apply the pure oil to the outside of the eyelids.

Headache and Rheumatic Pains in the Head are positively removed and cured by rubbing the oil on the affected parts.

For many Cases of Severe Bruises the oil has proved the best remedy.

Inwardly used, take three or four drops in half a tumbler of water. The essence effects a most surprising change of the whole constitution, correcting indigestion, and creating a healthy appetite.

No other essence is genuine except that in the vial bearing on the labels our signature and trade mark.

To be had at the manufactory, SANDER AND SONS, Bridge street, Sandhurst, Victoria.
Sold in Vials only at 1s 6d and 2s 6d each.
